

The fruit of life
by Margot Ricks.

The fruit of life,

full of energy,

and beings.

Beings drink it's

life-giving juice.

Eat it's fresh

seeds.

But, in the

shadows,

lurks a beast.

one full

with hunger, and

greed, devouring
the fruit, taking
too much of it into
its jaws of hunger.

Killing the other
creatures, to devour
everything in its path. But in the chaos, there are
seeds of hope.

to nurture the
fruit, to grow
it, into life.

together we can
all grow these
seeds of hope.
