How can you help the environment?

First of all, why do we want to help the environment? There are many reasons why we should all help the environment. One of the many reasons is we should because. If not the earth would be covered in plastic bottles, garbage bags, smoke , and other things that are harmful to us and the planet. Some things that you can do to help the environment are to use metal forks, spon, and knives instead of using plastic. Also you can use reusable water bottles, bags, and straws. And if you do this you can help us the planet and even animals. Yes you can also help animals too. Like plastic straws can harm animals like turtles and go into their noses here is a video. And it is not only turtles but other animals too. That is why we should all help the environment.
