

Giving Thanks

I am thankful for a lot of people, but the top most people I am thankful for is my mother, my father, and my brothers.

I am so thankful for my mother because she hates when I am upset and always comforts me. She studies so hard to pass her semester at nursing school and have good grades to get a good job. She cooks lots of good food for the family. We do a lot together. For example, we go to sushi bars, we do errands, go to the library, and we take care of the family. My mother is the best and that's why I am thankful for her so much!!!

I am also thankful for my dad because he plays games with me and my brothers. Also, he cooks for us when my mom is gone. He takes care of the baby when my mom is studying or if my mom has gone to her nurse college. Basically he helps my mom just like me. He also works hard to earn money for our rent and he saves money so that one day we may move after my brothers and I finish school. He mostly sleeps all day after he comes home from working all night and I'm happy that I see him and get to play with him at some part of the day. My dad is hard-working and I am so thankful to have him as my father.

I am so thankful for my brothers. I have three brothers. One is eight, one is five, and my baby brother is one and a half. They do a lot of things with me like laugh, joke, play, and dance. We play lots of games like hide and seek, tag, Marco Polo, hop scotch, and we even make up our own games. Joking and laughing is one of our favorite things to do. Whenever my brother tells me a joke, it brings me to the ground laughing so that I can't walk or even stand up! Sometimes my baby brother can get a laugh or a giggle out of me. Whenever one of my brothers win a pillow fight they dance and I join in doing the hype. (They always switch their dance to the fortnite dance but the hype is the only dance I know.) My brothers are so playful and I'm so grateful to have them as my siblings.

In conclusion, I'm so lucky to have my mom, dad, and my brothers as my family.
