

Giving Thanks

By Dilafruz Sirojeva, Class 4-317, P.S. 238

Thanksgiving is wonderful because it reminds me of what I am thankful for. I am thankful for my beautiful teacher and my mom and my brother.

I am thankful for my beautiful teacher, Ms. Mekel, because she is the best! She is funny and she makes jokes and laughs all the time. She also teaches us everything like math, ELA, science, social studies and she does not scream at us. She also cares about our feelings and always makes us happy. My teacher is the best teacher ever in this world.

I am thankful for my mom because my mom cooks food for me and buys me everything I want. She also takes care of me and works hard every day. She also takes me places. For example, she takes me to the park, the store, and sometimes the restaurant. She is so nice. She also makes sure that I am safe. My mom is the best mom in this world.

I am thankful for my brother because he helps me clean my room and whenever I fall down and cry he tells me not to cry. He shares everything with me. He plays with me and we go to the park together. We eat snacks together and watch movies. He makes cards for me on my birthday and we do homework together. Sometimes I help him with his homework and sometimes he does it by himself. We have so much fun together. My brother is the best brother in this world.

Hence, this is all about the people I am thankful for and why I am thankful for them.
