

I am thankful for...

When you are thankful for something you can really like it, or it can just be something you would rather have than not. Some things you need. I am thankful for every thing I have. I am thankful for my family. I love all my aunts, uncles, mom, dad, sisters, grandpas, grandma, and cousins. They make me grin, they give me joy, and make me feel sweet all over the place. I also am thankful for my pets. They're part of the family too. They make me feel good when I'm sad, and act so cute.

Everyone needs food, water, and shelter. I am thankful for those things. I need those things. I am thankful I have them. I am thankful for electricity and battery's. I do not need those things, they are just good to have. I am indeed thankful for machines. They make hard work easier, and they help make cool stuff.

I am thankful to be able to learn about cool stuff like electricity. I am thankful that I go to school and learn. Without learning people would not be that smart. I am thankful I am smart. I can read big chapter books, and write big stories. I also can make an electric circuit.

I am also thankful for toys. They keep me busy when I feel bored. Toys give me great joy, and fun play time. I am thankful for movies. They have wonderful stories, and make me feel awesome on the inside. They make me exited and scared at the same time.

I am thankful for everything as I said, but I will keep making the list. I am thankful for Holliday's. They make me feel warm, or fun over the top. Christmas is the best. I am very thankful we have Christmas. It makes me feel warm and jolly with decorations.

I am also thankful for all the different seasons. There are fun things about each season. It would be boring to just have one or two. They're all awesome. Summer has outside games and water fun. Winter has Christmas with lots of snow wonder. Spring has plants and flowers that grow in beautiful gardens and in the wild so wonderfully you would think they taste good. I am thankful for Autumn with it's huge leaf piles and spooky Halloween.

I am thankful to have beautiful nature. There are glorious fruit trees, and wondrous flowers. Then there are peaceful woods, and awesomely playful colored meadows. I love the snow covered valleys and ice covered lakes. Also who wouldn't be thankful for some nice fresh clean air to go along with that?

I am thankful for a really pretty wardrobe. It is not as good as the other things I have described, but I am still very thankful for it. I have lots of pretty dresses. Most are my favorite color, pink. I like pink and sparkly dresses. I feel sweet when I have a dress on.

I am so very thankful for play places. They are fun to go to with friends where the fun never ends. They are something to look forward to. They complete your day with a fantastic beginning middle and end. They have food and crazy play. They can keep you busy all day!

I love and am thankful for carnivals and fairs. There are fun games to play, and fun things to do. There are sometimes fun rides just waiting for you. There is lots to be thankful for about them. They have treats like ice cream and cotton candy. They also have fun houses who doesn't like those. All of these things are nice to have so lets all be thankful. I also am thankful for amusement parks. They have lots of fun water and dry rides, and lots of sweet and tasty candy. They can make you feel free, or crazy. It's nice to take a brake and go to an amusement park. I am glad that I am thankful for amusement parks. They are nice to have.

I think you get the idea. I am thankful for everything I have. I am thankful for the amusement park near me. I am thankful for my cloths. I have many more examples, but I am tired now. I must stop, but I am going to end with a big bold ending. It will be...

I am very very very
