What I'm Thankful for

Thanksgiving is a time to be thankful, caring, and sharing to your friends, family, uncles, aunts, teachers, cousins, grandma, grandpa, and so much more.

I'm thankful for my family because they support me and help me with things I don't know. My younger brother is sometimes annoying but playful at the same time. My family can do a lot of things but can't pronounce words very well like me. Sometimes I know more a little more than my parents. My family can help me through any problem and anything.

My uncles and aunts have pet dogs. They help me with things I don't understand like my parents but sometimes my parents don't know so I ask my uncles. My dad inspired my uncles and aunts to have a dog because they have to be responsible to care of a dog so I'm grateful for that because they have dogs I can play with. My two uncles but not my only two uncles I have, my two uncles are programing a game. So when I don't understand how they program they tell me how to do it.

At school it's fun to do stuff. My teacher is very funny but is also like a teacher. A subject that I like is math and I'm grateful for my teachers showing me and my friends for showing us how to do math. At school I can make friends and friends are the best thing I could have because they help me, talk with me, and play games. At school teachers help me and my friends with stuff we don't understand and are funny at the same time.

I'm thankful for these things because they support, comfort, help, and show me things. My friends can invite me to their birthday party. All these people that I'm thankful for helped me very well with things.
