

The beautiful earth: An original poem by Madison West

I am thankful for my family, because I now they'll always be there for me.

I'm thankful for all my friends,
because the fun that we have never ends.

I'm thankful for my teacher too,
because each and everyday she teaches me something new.

I'm thankful for my education,
because I'll know what to do in almost every math equation.

I am thankful for the sky, where the colorful birds fly.

I am thankful for the clouds, even though their storms can be loud. I am thankful for the church's songs, because it teaches me to make it right when I'm wrong.

Overall I'm thankful for God, who to me isn't a fraud.
