Then I am thankful for my sisters. They are always nice to me. They are the best sisters I could ever have. I love them. Then I am thankful for my Dad. He always drives us around. He is the best dad I could ever have. I love him. He always loves me. My Dad makes awesome food. It is so good. Then I am thankful for My Mom. She is always nice to me. I love her. My Mom is the best mom I could ever have. I am thankful for my Grandpa. He drives me around when my mom and dad aren't home. He is the best grandpa I could ever have. I love him. I am thankful for my Grandma. She always cooks for us on Thursdays. I love her. She is the best grandma ever. I am thankful for my Nana. She always gets me gifts. I love her. She is so nice to me. She is the best Nana I could ever have. I am thankful that we won World War 2 because if we didn't win we would not be alive. I am thankful for that we have a President because if they weren't here who will run our country. Who would stop wars. Who would stop people go and hurting people. Who will run the economy. Who will keep America safe. Who will make jobs? I am thankful for my K^{1st}, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th grade teachers. They helped me get through all these years. I loved all my teachers. They taught me how to read, write, math, social studies, science, and more. I am so happy that I have people who love me, I have a roof under my head, I have clothes to wear, and I have a teacher. I am a very lucky 10 year-old.
