

WHAT I AM THANKFUL FOR

Thanksgiving is a day to be thankful for all the things that you have. This day falls on the fourth Thursday of November. But sometimes it feels like this day is more about eating good food than it is about being thankful for all the things that we have. I am very thankful for a great meal but that is not what I am most thankful for in this world.

I am thankful for all of my family because they have brought me to where I am now. For example my grandparents always said I did great. Then my parents make me confident. My mom tells me that I can do this and my dad helps me to do that. I am also thankful for school because you can't do sports without school and I do play a lot of sports. Also, school helps you learn and helps you with other things in life. For example you can become a teacher, or you need to have good grades to get a good job.

These are some of the things that I am thankful for in this world. Everyone has different things that they are thankful for in their life. But still no one should only celebrate Thanksgiving just for the good food. People should celebrate Thanksgiving to be thankful for their blessings.
