

NAME: Audrey Christensen

I am thankful for a lot of things, but two of the biggest ones are My Family/Friends and having such a kind loving neighborhood. Here are some reason why Im thankful for my family/friends. My family is the best because we are so close which is something really special to me. One reason why im thankful for them is because i know that if im having a bad day and when im with my cousin i know that he will make me laugh or put a smile on my face. Also with out my mom i would not be all happy because each day she will find away to make me happy like, one time is ways having a bad day and me and my mom were talking and then i new that my heart was full of love because that one little thing that she said made me happy and ready to turn this day around to a better day the it was. Here are some reason why im thankful for my friends. One reason is because when i text them or call them i know i can trust them, and tell them anything because they are my true friends. Also if we get to see each other for once a week i know that one day is going to make the rest of my week good because they make me feel happy and be my true self. And not just someone im trying to be.

I am so so thankful for my neighborhood because they are just every thing you want in a person but like there be 20 of the prefect person that you wish to meet. When i go outside to play or talk to them it just make s me so happy to see all of the little kids face glow of joy fun to me to give me the biggest hug ever. There is know way that you could replace one of the memories that i have playing with them because they are each so so special. I love hearing them scream my name so fun because that cant fully say it right yet or, hearing their little laughs. I know when I hear that noise I know that I have made them happy, like if there have a bad day I put the spotlight on them so they know that it's their time to shine and be themselves and do whatever they want and make them happy. I don't care if I'm not doing something that I want to do with them as long as I know that I filled their bucket and made them laugh or smile, I'm as happy as I could ever be.
