

I am thankful for my family,
Even if they are sassy head to toe.
But even if we fight,
In the end everything is alright,
Since what we stick onto,
Is that we get along overnight.
I love all of them so very much,
And they love me back,
So I don't care if what you say about them is true,
Since I will still love them all the same,
As they all love me too!
