Every day I am so thankful for every person in my life. My life is filled with so many blessings, I can't even begin to count. COVID-19 showed us who the people we can lean on the most. My Mom has always been the person I can turn to when I need anything. This year was very rough for me and I went through a lot. I am so grateful for my Mom always checking on me and being there for me. Even if I don't tell her what's bothering me all the time, It is comforting to know that I can go to her with anything. Being in Isolation and not being able to see anyone made me realize that you don't need anyone else.
