As the holiday nears, I recall the special moments in my life that cause me to express the most gratitude. These moments are filled with the most influential people in my life. This year has brought death and oppression to some, but through everything conveyed love. The love I have for my family, the people I am most thankful for, is eternal. I am beyond appreciative of the people I call my family. I am grateful that I have not lost anyone in my family this year. An abundance of lives was taken this year, so I am thankful that no one in my family was one of them, that they stayed healthy on this earth. I could not envision my life without my family, so I am thankful that they were not taken away from me. I express extreme gratitude because I have a healthy and alive family, a family that is with me by my side.
