

Jason White

SJBDHS

October 28, 2021

This year, I am thankful for everything I have. I can wake up in the morning and say “Good morning” to my parents, and I can say “Good night” to them when I go to bed. I am thankful that I have a house, where I can live without having to worry about anything. I am thankful for having people that I can call my friends, and that people can call me their friend. This year for Thanksgiving, I am thankful for all I have.