Gratitude

Gratitude is a feeling

I wake up filled with each day,

surrounded by those who keep my life from going astray.

My friends and family inspire and motivate,
despite any challenges we may have on our plate.

We've grown so close through this last year,
and helped each other not live in fear.

Through good times and bad,
we always love each other, even when we say we're mad.
