

What Qualities Do You Have That You Are Thankful For?

By Dominick Gent

I am thankful for being helpful, happy, and quiet. These qualities are what make me who I am. My friends say that I am helpful because when they need help with a game, I will help them. I am happy because school makes me happy, and I get to see my friends that I barely get to see. My teacher and some friends think I am quiet because I don't like to talk in class. I am thankful for being a helpful, happy, and quiet person.
