

Thanksgiving Poem

What Qualities do you Have that you are Thankful for?

~By: Dylan Courtney~

On this Thanksgiving Day
I have many things I have to say.
I have many different characteristics;
and let's think of it this way.

One important quality is dedication.
I put my heart and soul into all I do.
I have been told this time and time again.
Hopefully, people say the same thing to you.

Another characteristic is understanding
I know in my heart that I am always there for my friends when they need it.
Understanding is an important quality that every person should have -
My understanding for my friends is never-ending.

The next quality is appreciation.
Appreciation is being thankful for what you receive.
Appreciation reflects on how you act as a person.
Appreciation leaves you with a feeling of no disbelief.

My last characteristic is kindness.
You never know what anyone is going through
By just showing a little kindness there whole day can be turned around
Showing kindness always comes back to you
