

What Qualities Do You Have That You Are Thankful For?

By Hayleigh Plandowski

I am thankful for being kind, joyful, and cheerful. These qualities are what make me who I am. My friends would say I am kind because once I helped one of them and they called me kind. I am sweet and happy to share what I know about being helpful. Being joyful is the second quality I am thankful for. If you are my friend, I will cheer you up in all that you do. I am reliable and always true, like a trusty dog or companion. Finally, I am very cheerful and always excited. I always cheer people up. I always work toward a goal. I am someone who does not let anything stop me. In conclusion, I am thankful for being a kind, joyful, and cheerful person.
