

What Qualities Do You Have That You Are Thankful For?

By Tasneem Barman

I am thankful for being fun, honest, and sneaky. These qualities are what make me who I am. My friends say that I am fun because they say I lighten the mood. Being honest is the second quality I am thankful for. If you are my friend, I will be honest with you with everything. I am always honest with people I love because I want the best for them. Finally, I am a very sneaky friend. I would prank my friends and they would not know it is me. I would also plan parties for them. In conclusion, I am thankful for being a fun, honest, and sneaky person.
