

Thanksgiving Essay: What qualities am I thankful for

Thanksgiving is a time to be thankful for all the things you have in life, like a house, a car, clothing, a phone, pets, and other material things. It is also a time to be thankful for who you are. I have many qualities that I am thankful for having.

Some of the qualities I am thankful for are being athletic, being nice, being kind, being funny, being talented in music, and having a good self esteem. I am also smart, caring, and sweet. These qualities help me be more likable and they help me do things better. For example, being athletic helps me pick up sports faster than other people and helps me enjoy sports more. Being funny is a quality that I am very thankful for because I love making people laugh; it makes me feel good about myself and it makes me feel like I brighten up someone else's mood.

I am thankful for many things in my life. I am thankful I am who I am and I have such qualities that make me a good person. Thanksgiving should make people appreciate things they have because many people may not have what we have. Thanksgiving should also make us appreciate who we are.
