What Makes Me Who I Am

Everyone has gifts that make them unique. I am thankful for the gifts I have been blessed with because they make me who I am today. Today, I would like to discuss my favorite gifts.

The first gift I will discuss is my sense of humor. Humor is important because it can be used to lighten the mood in an intense environment. Also I can use my humor to bring a smile to peoples face. It is a good way of cheering someone up if they are having a bad day or distracting someone from a bad situation. I am thankful for my humor because it is a good attribute to have in life.

My second gift is work ethic. I am always determined to be the best at anything I do or learn. My work ethic gives me drive to try my hardest. It is important to have a good work ethic now because getting good grades will help you get into a good college. I am grateful for my work ethic because I can use it to get a job that I love and have a successful future.

My third gift is resilience. The gift of resilience aids me to have the strength to stick up for myself and others around me. It also helps me learn from my mistakes. Resilience gives me the ability to recover quickly from hard times. I am thankful for resilience because it allows me to have courage and bravery in scary or sad situations.

Overall, I can use these gifts to better myself and the world around me. God gave us unique qualities that make us who we are. I have been blessed with many gifts, and I am thankful for all of them.
