

Qualities for being Thankful

~ by Ty Duffy ~

There are many qualities that you need to be thankful.

One of them is faith.

You need to have faith to believe in God.

You also have to be grateful in order to be thankful.

Another quality you need to be thankful is kindness.

You need to be kind to everybody and you will get kindness back.

Kindness is a key part of being thankful.

You don't always know what their life is like so you should be kind.

With others, you should feel empathy.

You should feel others' sadness,

But even in those tough times,

you should still feel gladness.

Empathy is all about knowing what others are going through.

You should always show love to others.

You need to love your parents because they do so much for you,

Love is a good way to show someone that you care.

You should always love your family and God.

Happy Thanksgiving!
