I think being thankful means feeling and expressing appreciation for the people and the things in your life. Being thankful also means showing what you are grateful for.

I am most thankful for my family. I am fortunate to have two parents, two siblings and four grandparents. I also have twelve first cousins, five aunts and five uncles. Celebrating holidays and birthdays are really enjoyable with them. I am also grateful to have a home and a roof over my head because a lot of families and people do not have that. My parents work hard so they can provide for my siblings and I.

I am also thankful for my friends because they are fun and they always make me laugh. I have friends on my sports teams and friends in my class. I can count on my friends to back me up when I need it.

I am also thankful for Jesus because he guides me in faith and teaches me how to be a good person and how to live out the ten commandments. Fr. Jerome, my pastor, helps me grow closer to Jesus and God. I really appreciate all the creative ways he teaches me about God.

Family, friends, and Jesus are the aspects of my life that I am most grateful for. I hope I continue to receive these blessings going forward in my life.
