

Under the sky,
up so high.
There are birds of many kinds.
On the ground lay leaves of hope,
for every animal a home.
In the big blue seas,
there are islands with trees.
On the shore lay banks of coral.
A place every fish is free to stay.
Many places we have ashore,
a place we all feel safe.
So every time we see nature's successes,
we are reminded of beautiful our world is.
