

What I'm thankful for!

By: Natalie Gray

The fall air is cool, leaves crunching under my feet,
something I'm thankful for is the thanksgiving feast.
A cup of hot chocolate is nice for some, tea is better,
in the winter time I'm thankful for the cold snowy weather.

In the springtime the flowers do their best to sprout,
I'm thankful for my birthday in the spring that's no doubt.

Summertime funner times fireworks and family time
I'm thankful for my family and friends that don't count
the time.

As I mentioned before, I'm thankful for, lots of things that keep me happy. Like, a thanksgiving feast, playing in the snow, my birthday in the spring, and my family and friends.

And this is how my fun and exciting year ends.
