

In a world that moves so fast and quick,
I find my anchor, strong and thick.
A big thanks, I want to say,
For my family, friends, and teachers every day.

To my family, strong and true,
You lift me up, help me through.
With love that's deep, a bond so right,
I'm thankful for you, day and night.

Friends like stars that light my path,
In every season, in joy and wrath.
With laughter, secrets, hand in hand,
I'm grateful for the joy you bring so grandly.

Teachers, guides, who share their light,
Igniting minds, making futures bright.
With patience, knowledge, you lead the way,
I'm thankful for you, come what may.

Each lesson learned, each word you've said,
In my heart, it's not lost or dead.
With gratitude, I stand strong and free,
For family, friends, teachers who believe in me.

So here's to you, my cherished crew,
For all you are, for all you do.
In every smile, in every cheer,
I find my gratitude, crystal clear.
