

Grateful hearts with each other
In this season, where blessings are,
Families unite, their love to share,
A feast, a joy, in the air.

Thanksgiving comes and goes,
As we express thanks,
loud and clear,
For food, for love, for each dear face,
In this moment, gratitude we embrace.

With so much laughter, stories, and pumpkin pie,
Underneath the November sky,
We give thanks for all that we hold dear,
The turkey that brings us together
This Thanksgiving, let's spread good cheer.