

Christian Mcveigh
ELA

Class 5-2
11/11/23

OLSS

One quality I am thankful for is that I am very helpful. An example of this is when someone has a problem on the computer I try to fix it. When my friends don't know how to do something I teach them. Another example is when someone is sad I try to cheer them up. Another example is when my friends don't know what to do for school projects. I make suggestions to help them. I really think this makes an impact because it takes stress from my friends and helps them live better lives.

More examples of me being helpful are when my friends are arguing I try to solve the problem. Something I dislike is when I see people being bullied. I tell the bully they should stop because they are emotionally damaging the person being bullied. I think no one should be bullied or have a hard time doing something so I try to be helpful and solve problems. That is why one quality I am thankful for is that I am helpful.