

Thankful

There are many qualities that people have the qualities that I have that I am thankful for are some that are bad and some that help me on a daily basis like: Deceives, Integrity, and Courageous: I am thankful for my Deceives qualities because it helps me get out of trouble and makes people think I am lying but im really just tricking them in to getting what I want and I have a story about this: One time it was late and me and my uncle went to Dunkin Donuts because we wanted to see if we can get a free Donut and I was really hungry and plus just give us a donut we get a donut and they get to do there nightly throw out of all the donuts that don't get sold then we walked in and we asked them if we can get they said no so I said what is the point just give us a donut your gonna throw them out anyway so you might as well just give us a free donut because what is the point of throwing out a few 100 donuts when they could give them to people who need it and after what they had just heard me and my uncle left there with 3 free donuts. Another qualitie I have is having Integrity it is super helpful from getting stuff my way from my mom and my mom wanting to under stand that I am trying to have Integrity. So one time me and my mom dad and brothers went to a water park and my brother was not able to swim at the time without a floaty and he jumped in the water with no floaty and I jumped in to save him so he would not frown to death I was so scared I was shivering in fear thinking what could have happened and with out my integrity of being hopeful in his survival I would have never jumped In I would have been to scared and then my mom thought I had pushed him in and my brother was not saying anything because he was just so scared of what just had happened I had to stand up for myself. Then my mom said why would you do that and I replied that I was getting him out the water then she asked someone next to our chair and said did this boy push that kid into to the water when the kid had no floatie and the person said no he was helping him to get out of the water and my mom with a strait face said sorry and I had forgiven my mom for her false accuse and then my dad got back then we ordered fish and a boat ride to this cave that had like 5 million bats then we went home and I got to feel good that day and I felt so amazing for helping my brother. And for my last quality is my quality of being courageous and to prove this I have one more story: So one day my family was going to connecticut for my little cousins birthday and we went to an arcade it had so many things and stuff that we could do and my cousin was going to do rock climbing and I am really scared of rock climbing and If I was doing It I am probably screaming and so my cousin wanted to get to the top and I wanted to sit back and watch and thats what I did he was doing so good then he could not reach this one rock so I was just cheering him on from afar Hoping he would not call me over to help him so I just kept on cheering till he said Jacob get over hear give me a boost and with fear in my eyes I said no its ok you got this then my mom said go help him he needs a boost and my mom was forcing me and then I said fine I put the gear on and I was just trying not to look down so I climbed up and I was feeling good I was no longer afraid so I went over to him and pushed him up and that was that then we went to go get burgers. And that is all my Qualities and things that I have done And I am super thankful for all my qualities.
