

Thankfulness

There are many qualities that people have that I'm thankful for. One quality I have is that I'm very optimistic, let me tell you my story. One time when I was a little kid like 6 or 7 or less I had a problem because a school fight was happening, and they both were my friends, so I tried to stop them from fighting but they didn't stop, and sadly by accident my friend punch me, I tough "how can I fix this problem?" I got knocked out, I went to the doctor and when I woke up, I saw my both friends with me waiting for me to wake up, so I saw them but thennothing possibly can go more wrong right?..Yup the problem went absolutely bananas, they got my friend that punched me SUSPENSION OF 1 WEEK and the other one was free because he didn't really punched anybody, I tried with all my forces to not cry, but when I saw my face....I really got in trouble, well not really because they called me to the office and I couldn't betray my friend, so because i'm a little liar(when I was more younger)I said that my friend punched me by accident, but they didn't really care and he got that, so now the question is...How did I make this day better? This is a long story but I'm going to tell you, first I went and got my both friends to hang out at the park with our moms, so I LITERALLY fix all up because they become best friends like always, so that is why I'm very optimistic, I made probably the worst day of his lifes, to one of the best.

Thank you for reading this.

END.
