THANKFULNESS

A Lot of people with different qualities their thankful for.
For me its intelligent and it's sometimes good but sometimes it's stood up Bad, some people misunderstood me as a cocky person in which i just ignore For better self confidence.

Im proud of this because some people aren't really good at doing certain things like math it's a subject im very good and it comes in handy but when i actually try i'm like candy sweet,sour because i think i'm in power over people it aint good but it's useful not the power thing

Theres this one time were i was with my parents we didn't find the keys to our front door we didnt know what to do with out making much noise i didn't mind to be honest but i think every one else would but I said my younger sister go through the back window we got in with out any unwanted presents
