Thankfulness

There are many quantities that people have. I am thankful for my courage and my ability to keep going on things other people say I can't. I am very thankful for it because it's a very helpful trait to have because it makes me work harder to be more brave and do certain things that other people won't do .Helps me accomplish things appropriately and not in an overconfident or careless way.

One time that i used courage and am thankful for is when i was in soccer practice and we had to run every one told me that i couldn't run five extra laps than anyone one else so i got very motivated so i ran the fastest i could and i did it i ran five more laps than everyone else and still finished first and my coach was very happy with me and he told me that i was a kid with alt of co urage. Another time that i had great courage was when i was on my skateboard at the park and a guy came up to me and told me i couldn't do a certain trick but he didn't know that i have been practicing it alot i new how to do it o he bet me 20 dollars i couldn't do in 3 tried and i couldn't do it right the first two times in the third try i tried my hardest and it did it perfectly and the guy ran away with my money.

This is why i love to have courage
