

Thankfulness

There are many qualities that people have , the qualities that I am thankful for are my kindness , my great education , my first place dance Awards, my first place cheerleading awards,

The reason why I picked my first one as kindness is because I feel like I have a great personality to be helpful and kind to others .I picked this because I feel that one day I can help the world a lot and that's why I'm thankful for my gift of being kind to others . Zombi tale of this is that I do community service hours for free I also love to help animals and I love to care for people I love to help. Another reason why I picked this was because kindness is a very good way how to show your emotions to people out and I never liked to be mean because if I be mean then I will get a bad sensor to myself so that's why I will send out good vibes to people so that if anything does happen I can help them out and I can make them feel better about themselves and I can make myself feel better about myself so that's the main reason why I like to be kind because it helps me and also helps the people around me.

My second thankfulness was my education. The reason why I'm thankful for this is because now I can teach others , help out people that are in need, and now I am very high in standards and getting into better high schools and colleges .The reason why I think that I like having a good education is because my parents think a lot about me and my education so they help me grow and they help me stand out for me to get good opportunities like higher grammar higher reading and higher mathematics. And I almost forgot one thing the reason why I love my education is because if I don't have good education or am I supposed to go for college I feel like I would get into a great College like LaGuardia or Saint Sinatra or anything like that because I have good education and I feel like if I continue on with the grades that I'm getting I feel like I can make it one day

My next thing that I added to my thankfulness was my first place Dance Awards .The reason why I am thankful for these was because I began as a toddler learning how to dance and that helped me with showing my emotions and helped me open up to other people. The reason why I am very thankful for this is because now I know that I have more than just my curriculum. I have dance so it helps me really open up to people and helps me with other situations. I might be in and that very moment so the main reason why I really picked this was because they inspire me to continue going on.

My last thing that I put to be thankful for was my Cheerleading Awards. The reason why I picked this was because I feel like it helped me out with my strengths and now I'm so much stronger than I was before even though. I stopped doing cheerleading this year it doesn't really matter cuz I still remember everything and I'm so excited to go back next year cuz I was always in first place and I felt like it made me a better person in a way that I felt good about myself. Another reason is because cheerleading is a very good way how to build up your stamina and also a good way for you to have better energy cuz before I was really tired really wonky and now like after dance after Dance and Cheer I feel like I have more energy in a certain way so I feel like that really helped me.

In conclusion I am very thankful for the things that I have and that people who love me and the people I love. I'm just thankful for a lot of things and I hope you are too.
