

I am thankful for all of my character traits. I have a lot of integrity for people. I always work hard in the things that I do and I know to always put my best effort in everything. I am also very patient with people no matter how long it takes. I am very optimistic and I always look at things as the "glass half full" instead of the "glass half empty". I am always cheering people on when they need it the most. One of my best character traits is kindness. People always might think that it is hard to be kind to others, but I think that it is always kind to show people kindness because it shows respect for them and you might not know what they are even going through. Even just showing a little smile at them could cheer them up to make their day. If I had a message to the world, I think that it would be to always spread kindness to people even if you don't know them. This is showing respect for people and you might not think about it, but it shows people you care about others. In the end, I am thankful for my character traits and I am thankful for everyone and everything in my life. This is my focus for my season of Thanksgiving.
