

Thankfulness

There are many that people have that I'm thankful for, my parents. My parents help me with something I don't identify in my homework. My parents support me for whatever I do in my life journey. I always make my parents laugh whenever I make a joke about something. I always try to help my parents out when they need it (my grandma too).

