

Qualities I am Thankful For

Written by Carter Sears

There are many qualities about me. There are big qualities and tiny qualities. There are a lot of them and they make me, me and this is all about me. One of the qualities about me is that I am smart. In school when my friends need help I will try to help them when I can and at home when I need to solve something hard I can.

Another quality about me is I am thankful for my friends and my family. When they feel bad I will always be there for them and when they need help I will help them and I am very happy that they are my friends and my family. I know that when I need help they will help me .

There are many qualities about me but these two qualities are the two that stood out to me. I think that my friends and family would agree these qualities describe me and who I am and I know and they know that I have many different qualities .
