

Qualities I am thankful for

By Damien Epolito

I have a lot of qualities that I am thankful for. They make me who I am and if I did not have special qualities then I would not be me.

I like most of the qualities I have. One of them is determination! I don't give up when I play video games or sports like skateboarding. I like doing those things so that is also why I really determined to get good at those things.

Another quality I am thankful for is that I am funny. I am funny because I make people laugh. It makes me happy seeing people laugh. I think being funny is a good quality because people like you.

I have a lot of qualities but those are the ones I like the most. I like being funny and determined because it helps me with everyday life. It is good I have these qualities because it makes me, me!
