

Qualities I am Thankful For

Parker Coash

I am Thankful for being funny. making people laugh is nice because it helps me make friends and it could make someone's day. I'm Happy about my character traits because they help me with other quites like creative and unique. Those are qualites that I love about myself. Creativity is a quality that I love because it helps me with homework and it help me with projects too.