Thankful Qualities

I am thankful for many qualities that I have. One of them that I am thankful for is being Responsibility. Being responsible means to be brave. One time my mom wanted me to go into the store and get 3 or 4 things and that is a big responsibility. And one time me and my sister opened the door for my mom because she was caring for my little brother who was sleeping.

Another quality that I'm thankful for is Kindness. Being kind means to be nice to others and to be helpful. When Gladymar was new I asked her 'do you want to be my friend?' And she said yes and I showed her around the school.

I am also thankful for being a good student because I'm a good listener, I pay attention to others. It is important because they are understood. And that they are heard from because if they are not then they will become lonely.

The last quality I am thankful for is creativity. I am thankful for this quality because I have a lot of imagination, thinking fast, and an important mind. I love to do art and make stuff.

This is why I am thankful for all of the qualities responsibility, kindness, good student, and creativity because God gave me them and they make me the person I am today.
