Thankful Essay

I have several qualities that I am thankful for. One of the qualities is that I am very athletic. I am very good at basketball, football, and soccer. One time I had a game winning shot in basketball. I like this quality because I make a lot of friends on my team and it is fun. My family is very supportive of it. My dad pushes me to be a player and have good sportsmanship. Sometimes being athletic is a challenge because there is a lot of pressure on you. I've learned how to stay calm and just play.

Another quality I am thankful for is that I am very friendly to people. My parents like all my friends. Also, I have good family relationships and friends. I think this because I make a lot of friends no matter where I am. Like in 1st grade, I was new and I made a bunch of new friends. Now, Drew is my best friend. But, I make sure my friends are kind people.

I am also thankful that I listen to my teachers and my coaches. I think listening is important because the first step to being good at something is listening. If you don't listen it is hard to get anywhere in life. And by listening you can learn a lot of cool things in any subject or sport.

Those are the qualities I am thankful for. I like these qualities because I think they are important and fun. These qualities help me get through life and make friends. That's why I like these qualities.
