

Qualities I'm Grateful for

By, Luciana Spezio

I have many great qualities that I'm grateful for. All of my qualities help me to do something special. There are two qualities of mine that I am especially grateful for: being brave and being able to sing. These qualities help me to do more things than most of my other qualities do, so I am very happy that I have them.

I am grateful for the quality of being brave because it helps me to not hold back and to not be afraid of anything that comes my way. This quality is very important because if I am not brave I won't be able to stick up for myself. I get this quality from my father because he is never shy and not afraid to speak his mind. I am also grateful for being brave because some people who are shy can not accomplish the things that I can. Being brave has really helped me throughout my life.

I am also grateful for the quality of being able to sing. When I sing I feel happy and it brings joy to me. Singing makes me feel good and I enjoy doing it. I am especially grateful for this because when I am feeling upset or just not having a good day I can sing and it will cheer me up. Some people may not have something that can cheer them up on a bad day so I am very grateful that I do. My grandma in heaven used to sing and I am very grateful that I can sing just like her as a reminder of her. I love being able to sing!
