PERFECT NIGHT

love you yesterday, love you still,
always have, always will

Everyone has their special moments, the ones they remember most, their “Perfect Night.” Mine is when you took me to the drive-ins and we watched the newest movies. We had to leave early because we were so tired, but it was the best time I have ever had. We laughed, ate, got slushies and were able to lay in the back. We looked up at the stars as we waited for the movie to start. Movie popcorn is the best popcorn so we got a large and shared. Matching sweats was a need when going to the movies together. This was by far a Perfect Night.
