

Qualities I am Thankful For....

Qualities are very important because qualities are the things that make you who you are. Qualities let others know the good and positive stuff about you. It is important to have good qualities because if you don't, it will be difficult for you to get along with others. The qualities I have are the stuff that makes me myself and without my qualities I wouldn't know who I am. There are many qualities that I have for which I am grateful.

The first quality I am thankful for is being funny. I don't always try to be funny all the time, but it makes me happy to see that people enjoy the stuff I say and that I'm a fun person. I don't make jokes all the time, but I will say that's one of the best qualities about me. Another quality about me is that I have good abilities when it comes to sports. I played sports like swimming, football, basketball, baseball, soccer, swimming, martial arts, and boxing. Playing sports will help me in high school and will help me forge relationships with other people, as it has in the past. Being generous is another quality that I have. I'm mostly generous when it comes to all of my friends. I show a lot of kindness to the people around me and the people I love so being generous is an extension of that kindness. I also like to share a lot. Depending on most of the stuff I use and unless it's very valuable to me, I love to share. I would always share the snacks I don't want or share some of the food I have at the store. I always believed in sharing because when you share things, it shows the amount of respect you have for a person and maybe they might give something back in return. The last quality I like about myself and that I am thankful for is being strong. I am strong in different ways like strong hearted, strong muscles, and having a strong brain. Being strong makes me feel confident about myself and also working out my muscles helps me with my mind and helps me build my weaknesses.

Without my qualities, I would not know what to do. All of these qualities are what makes me myself. I am very thankful for these qualities because they make me the young man I am today. These qualities are also things that help me know who I am and what I like to do.
