

Qualities that I am Thankful For ...

Qualities are defined as distinctive attributes or characteristics a person possesses. I have many qualities that I am thankful for, the qualities that make me “me”. Some qualities I am thankful for are that I am kind, respectful, thoughtful, generous, caring, and a good listener. I have many other qualities, but these are the ones that stick out to me the most.

All of my good qualities got me where I am today, which is pretty far. I have great friends and a great relationship with my family. This is all due to the qualities I show in my relationships with others, like being kind and respectful, being generous with my time, and listening to others. So I am thankful to God for giving me these characteristics, and I try to use them in my daily life, even with strangers. I try to be kind, thoughtful and caring to all people. I am a good listener, which is also respectful. I am generous to people when I have the opportunity to do so. Sharing my good qualities with others enriches my life and that is why I am thankful for these qualities that make me “me”.