

Mariam Eskandar
11/15/2023

NDCA
Poem

I am Thankful

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am compassionate. I like to see my sister happy so I give her what she wants.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am empathetic towards others. When I see my sister cry, I calm her down and comfort her.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am calm. When I receive disturbing news, I pass it on calmly.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am good at drawing . I once drew an amazing portrait of my family. My Mom framed it and hung it on the wall.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am trustworthy by keeping secrets.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am neat. At school my teacher complimented me about my locker.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am patient. When I am waiting on line, I wait patiently until it is my turn.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am independent. Because I do all my school work by myself.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am forgiving because I forgive people when they say something against me.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am respectful because I respect my family, teachers and friends.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am open-minded. I let my friends say their opinions out loud even if I disagree.

I am thankful, by God's grace, that I am intelligent. I get good grades, and think out of the box when solving problems. I have creative ideas..