

Maximilian Zieba

As Thanksgiving Day approaches
we recall the blessings every year Being thankful for our family, food, and today The things we are thankful for we will collect all of them.
We are special and made each other's lives change
We must exchange our gratitude for each other
All that is left is the turkey's company