What Am I Thankful For?

As I ran down the field through the recently cut grass, I waited for my team to pass me the ball. Finally they do. I retrieve the ball, shoot, and miss. I am thankful that I can go outside with or without my family and practice till I can't mess up.

I am thankful for so much, especially my family including my parents, my brother, my grandparents, my cousin, and my friends. When I am sad, sick or need to be cheered up, they are all the ones that would help me through it.

I am also thankful that my family and I can afford nice clothes because if I go somewhere nice or fancy I would need to where nice clothes. Even though I don't like to wear dresses or where fancy clothing I still know when to dress fancy.

I am also thankful to be able to come home from G.A.P. (Germantown Afterschool Program) and have a nice and hardy meal. Even if both my parents aren't home maybe because they had meetings, had to pick my brother up at Albany Academies or had to work over time to get extra money I still enjoy coming home and eating dinner.

I am also thankful for animals. I had a dog his name was Trooper. He was the nicest dog in the world. He would rarely bark at anybody unless he thought you were a bad guy. Unfortunately he died the day before my seventh birthday party. Sometimes I even just love to watch the twin fawns play in my backyard while their mother eats the apples off our apple tree.

That's not all I am thankful for but I need to go practice soccer. So I can get better and won't miss a shot.
