Everyone is always grateful for their parents because they get them stuff or because they gave them an Xbox for their birthday. The reason why I'm grateful for my Mom is because she is the lioness in our family. She is soft and tough at the same time.

Not only is she my mom she is also my dad. My dad is alive but has never helped us in our money tight situation. My mom supports me and my sister in a studio apartment. Im grateful that she doesn't give up even though times seem like nothing will get better. Im grateful because She cooks for us and she always makes us strive for the best. My mom always makes me study not to make me angry but to help me live a better life than she did. That's why thanks to her i'm in honors classes. My life isn't always strict though. My mom always saves money and lets us have fun all the time. Even though we don't have money, she never says no. When I wanted to get piano classes she yes and I worked hard to find a class. Were not rich but her heart is a pure diamond.

That is why I'm thankful for my one and only mother.
