

Kali Soltano
11/12/15

Thanksgiving
Writing

I am Thankful For this.....

Did you know that the Pilgrims started Thanksgiving for the first harvest? They celebrated it for 3 days compared to only a night of feasts. It was attended by 90 Native Americans and 53 Pilgrims. Along with this holiday, what are you thankful for? Me, I have a bunch of things like my parents and Bear.

Life is wonderful to have friends. I have 3 very very good friends Nora, Emma, and Ryan. They always put a smile on my face. Nora is my ability closest friend we have different lifestyles so learning how and what in both families is very cool. Nora always makes me laugh and we share a common interest we have together. Ryan is also my friend because we both make the other think they lost something. We have an ongoing dispute over Chevys and fords. Emma and I share an interest in books, especially Percy Jackson. We are both writing a myth for the author Rick Riordan he wrote the Percy Jackson. Another item that I am thankful for is books, they keep me excited and asking "What's next?". I love that I have a gift to read fast and still get the story. I am thankful there are Percy Jackson, and other series that I have read.

Everyone has people that mean the world to them. Like my parents, this year they strive to help me in life and provide me with lots of things. They also help fund projects and buy clothes for me. Especially food and a warm house to live in. Also they got a dog for me and my sister, his name is Bear. He is a good friend to play with. For holidays we dress him up, so our frown turns upside down. They are the best.

Last but not least, this year has lots of good things. The one thing that was a blessing, was building a go-kart and enter it in a race. Lots of good things came from it. Like building friendships and a best in show car. We came in 4th and made it special in our own ways. Like making a special chrome grill and bumper and painting it. Did you know that thanksgiving was started in 1621, be thankful for those Pilgrims for starting all those years ago. What are you thankful for?