

Kassidy Jarrett
P.S. 176Q

November, 2015
Creative Celebration Contest

Poem: Thankful Free American Girl

As an American girl, I'm thankful that I'm free to be a Doctor, a Dancer or even a Basketball Referee.

I'm thankful that in America, I can play fancy dress up and take my stuff animals out for tea.

I'm thankful that in America, I can worship freely and so can Muslims, Catholics, Jews, and Cherokee

I'm thankful that in America, I can read all day long, but must do my chores.

I'm not required to work long factory hours or plow huge fields outdoors.

It so sad that many girls aren't free to do the things I do. Life is so unkind

I pray for the the time when they will be able to write a freedom poem just like mine